

BORDEAUX

Located between the Massif Central and the Pyrenees, the region of Southwest France stands for quality of life and sensory pleasures like no other.

Remarkable wines are grown here, excellent foie gras and cheese specialties are made, and 10,000 years of culture are on display: Castles, cave paintings and churches in the southwest between Haute-Garonne and the Pyrenees impress laymen and architecture professionals alike.

Bordeaux, the wine capital of France, Toulouse - the "pink city", the famous pilgrimage site of Lourdes, the hilly Basque country, the rugged Pyrenees and Atlantic beaches offer many activities such as visits to wine and cheese producers, the Airbus factory tour, hikes and city tours.

Learn more about the country and its people, regional specialties, wine festivals and the southern French way of life - our immersive language week in small groups of up to 8 participants will inspire you!
